TODAY'S CONCERT

Welcome to this afternoon's Family Concert with the London Symphony Orchestra, presented by LSO Discovery, our world-leading learning and community programme. Whether it's introducing young people to the instruments of the Orchestra, helping to build the next generation of musicians, or enriching the lives of people in our local communities, LSO Discovery inspires over 60,000 people each year through music.

Today's concert celebrates the magic of storytelling through music, inspired by four enchanting words: Just One More Story! Over the course of an hour, we'll discover how music enhances a story, how it tells its own tale, and how our imaginations help us understand music we're hearing for the very first time.

You'll have plenty of opportunities to join in – whether by playing your instrument or singing along – and there might even be a little bit of dancing involved too!

With the LSO taking us all the way from Mozart to Matilda, we'll be going on a whistlestop tour of as many kinds of musical stories as possible. And along the way, we'll also encounter Lynley Dodd's beloved Hairy Maclary and Friends, who are sure to keep everyone entertained. Whether you're one or 101, the promise of just one more story never fades!

This Family Concert has been created by Tim Redmond. We hope you enjoy it, and that we'll see you again soon. Our next Family Concert is here at the Barbican on Sunday 9 March.

conductor and presenter

Tim Redmond is a conductor and educator. He is a regular guest with orchestras and opera companies all around the world, but what he loves doing more than anything else is creating concerts for young audiences.

This year he has written and presented shows for the LSO and Gävle Symphony in Sweden, and he filmed Count Me In! for the Leeds International Piano Competition and the Lang Lang Foundation. He is co-creator of the Royal Albert Hall's My Great Orchestral Adventure concert series and in his spare time writes musical settings of Lynley Dodd's classic Hairy Maclary children's stories.

soprano and co-presenter

Hannah Andrusier is an opera singer and actor. She's currently studying at the RNCM under Elizabeth Ritchie, where she holds the Eva Turner Award for Sopranos. She is delighted to be a Sybil Tutton Opera Award holder this year and possibly even more delighted to be back at the Barbican for another Discovery concert with the LSO!

Hannah works regularly with the Hallé, CBSO and at the Royal Albert Hall (where she has been a pirate, an alien, the ghost of Christmas past as well as a singer) and this year sings in operas by Britten and Chabrier at the RNCM.
